Genesis 2: 18-20a

Then the LORD God said, 'It is not good that the man should be alone; I will make him a helper as his partner.' So out of the ground the LORD God formed every animal of the field and every bird of the air, and brought them to the man to see what he would call them; and whatever the man called each living creature, that was its name. ²⁰The man gave names to all cattle, and to the birds of the air, and to every animal of the field.

Intercessions from the Beckwith family

Lord God our Father, we pray for the Church and thank you for the light and guidance you and the church provide during these still very uncertain times. We pray for those who lead us in our worship, and for all those who work tirelessly together to ensure everything runs smoothly offering friendship and worship as part of the wider church community. We pray for the leaders and volunteers of Messy Church and thank them for their commitment and enthusiasm in providing extensive activities and worship for a younger audience.

Lord in your mercy - hear our prayer

Father, acknowledging the thanksgiving pet service today, we pray for all animals for the comfort and companionship they bring to families, young and old. For many, pets have been a lifeline throughout the pandemic and indeed God sent. We give thanks to God for these special animals that enrich our lives, have supported our wellbeing and which have provided love and much needed diversion during difficult times.

Lord in your mercy – hear our prayer.

Father, whilst we hope the worst of the petrol crisis is over, we do know that other challenges lie ahead and ask that you help us to look over and out for those who will worry about the inevitable increase in household bills and food shortages that are likely to occur later this year and throughout winter; praying especially for those who struggle to get to the shops or who fear for using their heating for the additional costs it incurs. We pray that in their time of need, they may seek the support and receive the reassurance they require.

Lord in your mercy - hear our prayer

Father, as we start the half term holidays, we thank and pray for the teachers and staff of All Hallows School, all (pupils and staff alike) have adapted brilliantly to the return to school from September; friends have been reunited and happiness and fun has resumed. We thank the staff for their dedication to young people under their care and hope they have a restful break.

Lord in your mercy – hear our prayer

Father, as the pace of the COVID-19 vaccination programme continues, with the Booster and flu programme now well underway, we pray and give thanks to those who work tirelessly to deliver this programme and who give us hope, for restoration of health services. We all have a part to play in returning the world to a form of normal and pray that people both locally and wider see the opportunity and freedom the vaccines bring. We pray for those who may be waiting for an operation, in pain, distressed or frustrated by the changes to health and social care services and reduced face to face personal contact that may ensue. May the successes and pace of vaccinations in the UK continue and be replicated around the world, bringing an end to the loss of so many too soon, either directly or indirectly due to COVID-19.

Lord in your mercy – hear our prayer

Father, this year continues to be hard and challenging for so many, we pray for those who are struggling during this difficult time and ask that we all reach out to our neighbours, friends, family, work colleagues and check they are okay, kind words, compassion and consideration of others will be welcomed by those in need, those who need a helping hand, a friend, support or direction.

Lord in your mercy – hear our prayer

Father we think of those who are lonely, those who are isolated because of ill-health, we think of those in our community, those who are dear to us, who are sick in body, mind or spirit, we pray for them all and particularly those listed on today's pew leaflet, Kate Lincoln, Penny Greenwood, Annmarie Lamb, Mike Richards and Sheila Richards.

Lord in your mercy – hear our prayer

Father, we pray for those who mourn and for those who have recently passed, we think especially of June Hancock, Robert White, Joyce Littlewood. Mabel Bower, may they rest in peace and rise in glory, forever in your presence.

Merciful father accept these prayers for the sake of your son our Saviour Jesus Christ Amen
